The Market Photo Workshop would like to invite you to attend an off the cuff exhibition and forum discussion on work currently being produced by students attending the Advanced Course in Photography.

The exhibition opens on Tuesday 21 April 2009 at 6pm.

About the exhibition

The exhibition consists of slideshows detailing two major bodies of work by each of the five students. Following the projections, a discussion forum will be held by the students and trainers; members of the public are welcome to participate. The discussion will aim to investigate the creative processes involved in the development and production of a self-motivated body of work - from its creative inception, to its final installation. The discussion will be moderated by Loyiso Oldjohn.

About the Advanced Course

The Advanced Course provides students with the technical, academic, and infrastructural support necessary to develop an independent and substantial body of work.

The Advanced Course boasts some of the most respected and highly regarded trainers in the visual arts industry, and include Christo Doherty, John Fleetwood, Sharlene Khan, Dorothee Kreutzfeldt, Peter McKenzie, Jo Ractliffe, and Usha Seejarim.

The Advanced Course is generously funded by Ausaid
